European Quake Kills Hundreds

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — An earthquake described as one of the strongest ever recorded in Europe devastated the Romanian capital of Bucharest, flattening apartment buildings, buckling streets and driving thousands of terrified residents from their homes.

Early reports from Bucharest today said hundreds may have perished there, and the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said the city of Ploesti, 35 miles north of the capital, was heavily damaged by the quake that struck late Friday.

Tanjug said ambulances were rushed to Ploesti, an oil center that was the target of massive Allied bombing raids in World War II.

There was no immediate word on how many may have died in Ploesti and other outlying areas.

The Romanian government said today the quake caused "casualties and great material damage" in Bucharest and the rest of southeastern Romania, but it gave no details.

In the capital, rescue workers struggled today to free victims from the rubble of apartment and office buildings. Fires broke out in some of the damaged structures, and the air was heavy with the smell of smoke. By dawn police began blocking off many streets, including Magheru Boulevard, the city's main thoroughfare.

Witnesses said the Intercontinental Hotel, a favorite of Americans and other foreigners, was one of the few buildings on Magheru Boulevard to escape damage.

Hospitals throughout the city were jammed with the injured and their families. Meanwhile, the government issued repeated appeals for 1.5 million residents to remain calm.

The earthquake, registering 7.5 on the Richter scale and felt from Rome to Moscow, struck at about 9:30 p.m., when most of residents were at home.

Unofficial reports said several apartment buildings, including at least two seven-story structures, had collapsed, burying scores of tenants.

An employee of a Western airline reported from the Romanian capital that he had seen seven or eight crumpled apartment houses.

Survivors wandered about the wreckage of apartment buildings calling out the names of friends and relatives.

Balconies in a downtown music theater also reportedly collapsed, injuring several persons.

Thousands of residents spent the night in the streets, huddled around candles and the few belongings they could carry with them.

Many foreigners bundled up their families and spent the night in their cars. Traffic was brisk throughout the night as ambulances raced along the streets and motorists, some in their pajamas, apparently tried to leave the city.

Witnesses said large cracks were visible in many downtown buildings and glass and debris were everywhere. An eight-story building near the National Theater collapsed, they said.

Romanians are now faced with "moments of hard trial," the government news agency Agerpress said.

The only report of casualties outside Romania was in neighboring Yugoslavia, where 17 persons were reported injured in Kragujevac, a city south of Belgrade.

A telephone operator at the Bucharest exchange said "the situation is terrible here. We know nothing for sure but we have heard that there are many dead."

President Nicolae Ceausescu was in Nigeria when the quake struck. He cancelled a scheduled meeting today on the Spanish island of Mallorca with King Juan Carlos and returned to Bucharest today.

Radio Bucharest went off the air for about 1½ hours Friday night and then returned to broadcast appeals to the population to stay calm and help rescue teams, and for workers to go to their jobs to keep basic services operating.

"The entire population is called upon to take part in removing the wreckage, to do their best to assist those afflicted by the quake," Agerpress said.

Julius Drimmel, a seismological expert in Vienna, said the quake was centered about 60 miles north of Bucharest in the Transylvania Alps. There were no reports on damage and casualties outside Bucharest.

Patrick Willmore of the Institute of Geological Sciences in London said the quake was at least twice as strong as the one that shattered Skopje, Yugoslavia, in 1963, killing some 1,000 persons.

"It is one of the strongest we have ever recorded," Willmore said.

Yugoslavian authorities said tremors cracked walls in old buildings and sent residents scurrying into the streets in Belgrade, Sarajevo and Zagreb.

Some slight damage was reported in the southwestern Soviet Union. In Moscow, pictures shook on walls and curtains swayed when the tremors struck.

"The whole damn place was shaking," said one Westerner living in a nine-story Moscow building. "It was scary as hell."

In the Greek city of Salonica, authorities said five tremors shook buildings and caused some panic but no damage.

Italian authorities said the quake shook Rome, Naples and most of central Italy, causing some tall buildings to sway. Glassware rattled and lamps swung in Vienna.

The quake was the first of the year to measure at least 7 on the open-ended Richter scale, a measure of ground motion as recorded on seismographs. Every increase of one number means a tenfold increase in magnitude. Thus a reading of 7.5 reflects an earthquake 10 times stronger than one of 6.5.

An earthquake of 5 can cause considerable damage. A reading of 7 indicates a "major" earthquake, capable of widespread, heavy damage; 8 is a "great" quake, capable of tremendous damage.

The San Francisco earthquake of 1906, which occurred before the Richter scale was devised, has been estimated at 7.9 on the Richter scale.

Y MEMBER DRIVE — 1977 YMCA Membership Campaign is under way with a goal of $7,500. Emphasis in this year's campaign will be given to membership renewals, recruitment of new members and broadening the Century Club and Partners With Youth programs. In 1976, 120 Pickaway County boys and girls received full YMCA membership and 48 area youth were sponsored in the Gray and Tri-Gray programs. The Partners

With Youth (PWY) memberships provide the yearly sponsored youth memberships. Last year PWY membership income of $1800 did not cover the number of children sponsored and was $700 below 1975 enrollment income. Serving as co-chairmen for the 1977 campaign are Valerie Wilson and Larry Priest. Captains for the ninth annual membership enrollment are Rosemary Mader, Sam Sberna, Don Metzler and Myron Rorick.

New York City Broke Again

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City is just a week away from its latest bankruptcy deadline and city officials have offered to help. But city officials say absolutely "no," that the banks' plan would end the city's political sovereignty.

In exchange for marketing new city securities and postponing payment on bonds they now hold, the banks proposed nine sets of controls on city budgeting, spending and borrowing.

The one that most rankled the city would establish a stateappointed "review board" with power to approve or change future city budgets and borrowings, city contracts and financial planning. And if city officials were caught willfully defying the board's wishes, they could be held criminally responsible.

"It flies in the face of the democratic processes upon which our nation and our concepts of home rule are based," Mayor Abraham D. Beame angrily said after a Friday night meeting of bankers, city officials and union leaders.

The meeting had lasted only 45 minutes when city officials and the unions denied the banks' 40-page proposals for curing New York's latest billion-dollar problem were unacceptable.

Three months ago, a state appeals court told the city it no longer could delay payment on $1 billion worth of notes placed in a three-year moratorium as part of an emergency financial plan.

Since then, negotiations between banks, unions and the city on how to come up with that cash have been fruitless. Banks for months have demanded sharp outside budget and spending controls and, if anything, Friday night's proposals were the toughest yet. Unions demand an end to the controls.

And with banks, unions and the federal government all refusing to give the city another dime until the billion-dollar debt problem is solved, the city is caught in the middle, with money running out.

For the first time, Beame hinted Friday night that the city would solve its problems "with the banks or without the banks." He said the stalled negotiations would continue in the next few days.

City Comptroller Harrison J. Goldin told reporters that even in the most optimistic circumstances, the city faces possible default next Friday and almost certain bankruptcy the following Monday.

The solution, city officials concede, for the time being cannot include federal government help. Under a law passed 15 months ago entitling the city up to $2.3 billion a year in federal loans through 1978, federal officials have to be convinced the loans will be repaid promptly. Both President Carter and Treasury Secretary Michael Blumenthal said last week they weren't convinced, and won't be until the city's billion dollar debt problem is solved.

Vietnam Reportedly Seeking Own Detente

TORONTO (AP) — Two weeks of travel by members of a Mennonite delegation in Vietnam gave them the impression of a country determined to define socialism on its own terms and eager for relationships with the West.

The delegation consisted of two former Mennonite mission and relief workers in Vietnam — Americans Don Sensenig of Lancaster, Pa., and Max Ediger of Turpin, Okla. — and the writer. Sensenig, who works with Vietnamese refugees in Lancaster, speaks Vietnamese fluently.

Vietnam, politically aligned with the Communist bloc, is giving signals that it is anxious to restore diplomatic relations with the Western powers, especially the United States. And in various ways it is suggesting that it isn't bent on a hard-line Communist course.

A unique Vietnamese style of socialism could be seen and heard in many ways, and there was little sign of anti-American bitterness.

Despite 20 years of Communist government in the North, free enterprise survives. Even the government official who traveled with the Mennonites throughout their tour said that for certain food he goes to the private stalls in the Hanoi market.

Organized religion may also be doing better in Vietnam than many had predicted at the end of the war in April 1975.

Christmas is still a big celebration throughout Vietnam, where the Roman Catholic Church was once a powerful presence. Several Christians told the Mennonites they had received food and supplies from the authorities at Christmas so they could enjoy a truly "solemn celebration."

Catholics, evangelicals and Buddhists all reported they had received government aid for rebuilding war-damaged churches or pagodas.

Culturally, at least, the Vietnamese do not seem totally caught in the Moscow orbit.

On all their air flights over Vietnam, the delegation was surprised to find that announcements were in Vietnamese and English, despite the presence of Russians or East Germans. At the Hanoi airport, a Russian woman, asking for directions in her language, was told by a young attendant, "I'm sorry, I speak English." Vietnamese told their guests that they have no reason to hate "American people." Their long struggle was against French and American "imperialists," not the people, and against the "puppet" regime in South Vietnam, they said.

Lima Refinery Installation Set

LIMA, (Ohio) (AP) — The Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) says it will install an electrostatic precipitator at its Lima refinery to cut down on the chances of air pollution.

Company officials say the device, which is about 80 feet tall and weighs 100 tons, will collect fine dust particles from catalysts used in the crude oil refining process.

Cuban Relations Eased

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance says the United States is willing to open talks with Cuba on a broad range of issues. As a first step he is approving a renewal of "ping pong diplomacy" to allow U.S. sports teams to play in Cuba.

Vance told a news conference Friday that the United States is willing to talk directly with Cuba "without any preconditions" on a new fishing boundary and on renewing an anti-hijacking agreement.

The two countries have not held direct talks in 16 years, and have not engaged in any substantive negotiations since the anti-hijacking agreement was worked out in 1973 with the help of intermediaries.

Cuban President Fidel Castro has said Cuba will not honor the anti-hijacking agreement because of alleged CIA sabotage against Cuba.

Vance said he supports Castro's recent proposal for the exchange of athletic teams between the two countries. Former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger vetoed a proposal in 1975 for a U.S. all-star baseball team to compete in Havana.

The New York Yankees, who were defeated in last fall's World Series by the Cincinnati Reds, are now asking baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn for permission to play a threegame series in Havana starting April 1, prior to their regular season.

Yankees' President George Paul says Castro is a fan of the team.

At the same time, 10 basketball players from the University of South Dakota and South Dakota State University are raising funds in hopes of an exhibition trip to the Caribbean country by April 1. The State Department has given the players clearance for the trip.

Vance's support for Castro's proposal recalled the trading of ping pong teams between the United States and Communist China in 1971 after years of total estrangement between the two nations.

The ping pong players blazed a trail followed by diplomats who opened liaison missions in Washington and Peking. Former President Richard M. Nixon visited China in 1972.

Two weeks ago President Carter said he was willing to move toward friendly relations with Cuba if the island nation eased political repression and ended its involvement in the internal affairs of other countries.

The U.S. feelers toward Cuba came during a news conference largely devoted to questions on U.S.-Soviet relations and the possible effects of Carter's statements of concern about human rights.

Vance said there must be a better understanding between the United States and Russia about the nature and limits of detente.

He called for "a set of ground rules which permits competition side-by-side with the resolution of outstanding problems and issues."

Vance said he is aware of Soviet resentment about U.S. expressions of concern over what the United States considers human rights violations within Russia.

"On the other hand, I note a continuing, deep and abiding interest in the Soviet Union and among Soviet leaders for pursuing with us the questions relating to arms control, particularly in the nuclear areas, and in a variety of other matters," he said.

President Talks To U.S. Citizens Via Telephone

WASHINGTON (AP) — Got a gripe with the government? Feel taxes are too high or Social Security benefits are too low? Maybe you're worried about the nuclear arms race, or upset about Amy's reading at state dinner tables.

Well, now's your chance to tell President Carter about it.

He's taking calls today from people across the nation on a two-hour radio talk show called, "Ask President Carter."

Technicians went to work in the Oval Office after the President finished his business Friday to prepare for the first presidential call-in. Speaker phones and microphones were set up for Carter and moderator Walter Cronkite of CBS News to use during the unprecedented show from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., EST.

Anyone in the United States who wants to ask Carter a question can dial a special toll free number: 900-242-1611.

Although the show was not beginning until 2 p.m., callers can start dialing at 1 p.m., EST.

The show will be carried by the 265 CBS radio network stations, some non-affiliates and public broadcasting. The Voice of America will beam it overseas.

The average citizen's chances of getting through to Carter were slim. CBS estimated Carter would be able to field 50 to 100 questions during the two hours. A White House aide said as few as 30 callers might get on the air.

A computer was choosing which calls would get through from a broad geographical area. The telephones were to be answered not by Carter or Cronkite, but by CBS operators at 20 phones in a control room to the Executive Office Building next to the White House.

Those who get through were to be asked to give their names, addresses and telephone numbers, then hang up. The operators planned to verify the information and compile lists of questioners to call back.

No one will screen the questions, but there was to be a 6.5-second delay between the time Carter or a caller spoke and actual transmission of voices over the air. This was to permit a CBS executive in the control room to censor any offensive language.

In addition, Carter plans a number of tours around the country to hold "town meetings" and other sessions with local residents.

The first will take him to West

Virginia, Massachusetts and New York in mid-March.

In other administration developments Friday:

—Clark Clifford, the President's special envoy to Cyprus, told Carter a settlement of the dispute there is possible this year.

—White House Press Secretary Jody Powell said Carter will make available as much secret information as possible to federal prosecutors requesting it for pending cases.

Powell spoke in response to questions about a Chicago SunTimes story saying White House counsel Robert Lipschutz had confirmed that a grand jury is investigating whether former CIA Director Richard M. Helms lied in testimony to two Senate committees.

THE Treaty of Geneva, signed by President Chester A. Arthur, March 1, 1882, following years of urging by Clara Barton, marked the beginning of the American Red Cross. . . . In 1900 and 1905 charters were granted by congress designating Red Cross the agency to provide services to the Armed Forces and the victims of disaster. . . .

In Pickaway County some 300 families of servicemen and veterans are served each year. . . . There are Red Cross Field Directors in 19 foreign countries and at 908 military locations in the United States. . . . Without them the local chapter would be unable to verify needs and provide the information which enables the military to make decisions in emergency situations. . . .

All overseas messages are telephoned to the AmCross message service in Washington, D. C. which operates 24 hours a day. . . . Even with the volunteer armed services, family problems are much the same as always.

THE Circleville High School class of 1972 is starting to make plans for its five year reunion. . . . Any members of the class that are interested in helping the class officers organize the reunion should call 443-5551, 474-3344, or 474-4296, or get in touch with any of the class officers by March 12.

Maintenance Tips Offered For Farm Drainage Systems

In Ohio, nearly 60 per cent of the cropland has excess water problems. Most of the land with water problems has some drainage improvements and on 20 per cent complete drainage systems have been installed and need maintenance, reveals Byron H. Nolte, Extension agricultural engineer, The Ohio State University. He points out that poor maintenance of drainage systems reduces crop yields and shortens the time available for field work.

Nolte urges farmers to begin a maintenance program now. Inspect fields annually and after major storms to spot problems before they cause damage. Make annual inspections before beginning spring field work, he says, and plan work to be done during the year.

The things to look for and maintenance needs to expect depend on the type drainage system — surface drainage, tile or subsurface drainage, or outlet ditch. Take, for example, surface drainage of a field that has been graded or farmed so all rows drain to a surface field ditch. On a graded surface, the need for smoothing with a land plane every 1 to 4 years, depending on the soil type and land slope, can be expected, Nolte says. An Arkansas study showed the depressions one-half inch deep affected crops on poorly drained soils, and an inch deep depressions on moderately well-drained soils affected crops. Check for depressions that trap water, he explains.

For tile or subsurface drainage, inspect the outlet. Note if it is under water, filled with sediment, or shows excessive erosion. Check the animal guard to see if it is in place. Walk or drive along tile lines and look for washouts or "blow outs" — holes over tile lines, due to broken tile, bad joints, animals or rodents, sediment in tile, or overloaded lines. Keep surface inlets and sediment traps clean and repair them when necessary.

Outlet ditches with no maintenance will have to be cleaned out in 12 years or less. Maintenance is usually much cheaper than "clean outs" when benefits and costs are considered. Maintenance involves regular removal of sediment deposits; control of brush, weeds and bank erosion; and removal of log and debris jams.

Ways to reduce these problems include (1) a well-designed ditch, constructed according to recommended plans, and (2) rapid establishments of a good vegetation for erosion control. A secondary purpose of vegetation may be for wildlife habitat and scenic value.

Ditches and drain tiles involving 2 or more farms may or may not be maintained by county money collected by assessments. Drainage laws have required maintenance on county ditch work done since 1957, so check with county engineers or soil and water conservation district officials.

News For Homemakers

By BEVERLY BECHTEL
County Extension Agent
Home Economics

In recent months, more and more "American Indian silver jewelry" has been sold throughout the country. For most consumers, this is a "blind" purchase - a product bought on faith, because of the lack of expertise in judging item's worth or authenticity.

Because authentic handcrafted American Indian jewelry is expensive - and because government agencies at all levels have received complaints from consumers who believe they have been defrauded, CONSUMER NEWS has these suggestions on how consumers can protect themselves:

Q. What is American Indian jewelry?

A. American Indian jewelry is usually made of silver and formed into a flower or other design from nature. It is or appears to be hammered out and formed by hand. Usually, the stone set in this silver jewelry is blue turquoise; however, coral and translucent white moonstone are also used by Indians. Older jewelry has the stones set in the customary way and in traditional designs, but new jewelry often is highly polished with all three stones - turquoise, coral and moonstone - which are formed into a flat, smooth, contemporary design.

Q. What is the most important factor to consider when buying American Indian jewelry?

A. Be sure to buy from a reputable dealer. Look for a dealer with an established place of business. He or she will be available later to answer complaints or questions you may have. Many dealers travel from place to place, selling from motel or hotel rooms that they rent for only a few days. Therefore, you usually have no way to locate them later if you have complaints.

Many dealers belong to the Indian Arts and Crafts Association (IACA), a trade association whose 600 members guarantee that their merchandise is honestly represented when they sell it to you. If you later learn the jewelry is not what it was claimed to be, you can get your money back. You may want to look for the IACA insignia when you are shopping for American Indian jewelry.

You also may want to check the shops in your local or nearby museums. In Washington, D.C. for instance, both the Smithsonian Museum Shops and Indian Crafts Shop at Interior Dept. sell American Indian jewelry. So do shops in many national parks. You might also contact crafts organizations to find out whether any Indian craftsmen in your area, sell jewelry.

Q. What questions should I ask a dealer to help me determine the true value of a piece of jewelry?

A. Experts suggest that you keep these 4 questions in mind:

Is it made by Indians? Much jewelry of American Indian design now being sold is made by people who are not American Indians.

Is it handmade? Some jewelry may have a handmade appearance, but it is actually machine-made.

Are the stones untreated natural turquoise? Because the supply of good hard turquoise is dwindling, a lot of low-quality softer turquoise is being used. Since this tends to crumble, it is being processed in various ways to make it hard and also to enhance its color. (Coral, which is also used in Indian jewelry, is still abundant.)

Is it made of sterling silver? Sterling is an alloy that mixes silver and copper in a proportion that meets an international standard (925 parts silver to 75 parts copper). If a piece is represented as being sterling, it should meet this standard. Some American Indian jewelry appears to be sterling silver, but it is not.

Q. Is it important to get "Yes" answers to all those questions?

A. Not necessarily. It depends on what you want. If you simply want a bracelet with a design that pleases you, you may not care if it is machine-made by non-Indians.

If you are buying an inexpensive pair of earrings, it may not matter if they are not sterling silver, or if the turquoise stones are poor quality.

But if you are spending your money as an investment in a squash-blossom necklace that is supposed to be an authentic, handmade American Indian piece, you certainly want to be sure that the necklace is actually what it is represented as being.

Important factor is that the dealer should not misrepresent the jewelry - that he should tell you honestly whether it is handmade or machine-made, whether it is made by an American Indian craftsman, an American non-Indian Craftsman or a craftsman in another country.

Q. Are there any clues that I can look for on the jewelry to indicate its value or authenticity?

A. Very few, unfortunately. Only one tribe-the Hopi-uses an identification mark on its silver pieces. The Hopi hallmark appears on the inside of each piece, along with the craftsman's individual hallmark. Occasionally, you will find a particularly fine piece from some other tribe that carries a signature or a hallmark, but this is unusual.

Q. Where can I learn more about judging and buying Indian jewelry?

A. Here are several sources. Indian Arts and Crafts Board is an operating agency of Interior Dept. It publishes a bibliography of Indian crafts, as well as directories of Indian craftsmen who market their jewelry. Write to Indian Arts and Crafts Board, Interior Dept., Washington, D.C. 20240.

Another source that could answer specific questions is the All Indian Pueblo Council Consumer Education & Advocacy Program, 1015 Indian School Rd., NW, Albuquerque, N.M. 87107. Office of Consumer Affairs (OCA) has worked with this program, which has received funding from Health, Education & Welfare Dept.

Q. Is there any legislation to protect consumers?

A. Yes, although enforcement is often difficult. There is a Federal law (Indian Arts & Crafts Board Act, P.L. 74-355) that makes it illegal to misrepresent Indian products, and there are also laws in 9 states (Alaska, Ariz., Calif., Colo., Minn., Mont., Nev., N.M., and S.D.)

Q. Whom can I contact if I suspect jewelry was misrepresented?

A. IACA will help consumers determine authenticity of Indian jewelry. For information about their procedure, write to Box 1358, Gallup, N.M. 87301, or call 505-722-9488.

May We Toot Our Horn!

More producers marketed more hogs through Heinold Hog Markets last year than ever before.

They sent over four million hogs to market through their nearby Heinold markets—that's 5.6 percent of all the hogs raised in the nation for commercial slaughter.

Though our customers are wonderful people, they didn't let us market their hogs out of the kindness of their hearts.

Producers sold to Heinold because of a hard financial fact! They got a bigger check! They took home more money because they didn't pay the marketing costs charged elsewhere.

That's why Heinold became the world's largest independent buyer of hogs years ago—and why we keep the title.

If you haven't marketed the Heinold way lately, isn't it time you did? Your neighbors do!

Farmers Encouraged To Analyze Operation

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

What changes should I make in my farming operation to stay competitive and return a satisfactory level of living for my family? As an Ohio farmer, you can receive assistance in arriving at this and other management decisions through participation in The Ohio State University's Farm Business Analysis Program, according to Jim Polson, Area Extension Agent, Farm Management. All information is strictly confidential — with each farm identified by a farm number.

This program gives you an opportunity to get an outsider's view of your operation. You will also be able to compare your farm with other farms that are of similar size and have the same crops and livestock activities.

One of the first steps in making a change in the farming operation is to analyze the present operation. Analysis should include a look at financial statements, crop and livestock production, records, overhead expenses, and labor and management performance.

Today's modern farmer must make greater use of his farm account records. Many producers only keep enough records to meet the minimum requirements for federal income tax.

Other records important to the farm operation include inventory records, crop production records and a financial statement including all assets and liabilities. Income tax records provide only one part of the information needed to estimate how well a farmer has done.

If you would like an objective evaluation of your present business or would like to discuss possible changes with an outsider, you may want to consider asking your County Extension Agent, Agriculture and Area Extension Agent, Farm Management. The cost of the program is $25.00.

There is also a summary prepared for the state, averaging similar farms which can be used for comparison purposes. Copies of the 1975 summary are available at most County Extension Offices. Anyone interested in obtaining more information concerning this program should contact the Pickaway County Extension Office, or the Area Extension Office, 317 S. Fayette Street, Washington C. H., Ohio 43160.

Lawn Got That Dreary Look?

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Most of us are wondering if the severe winter has affected our lawns in any way. In checking with Dave Martin, Extension Agronomist, Turfgrasses, he says that most winter injury problems are caused by three specific problems: low temperature diseases, desiccation, and direct low temperature kill of turf.

Winter diseases are mostly snowmolds and can be severe on certain grasses, particularly bentgrass. Most lawns are bluegrass and are not affected by snowmold to any great extent, he says.

Desiccation could damage the lawn, but since we have had a good snow cover, this problem has not been severe. And, because of the snow cover serving as an insulation, we probably have not had much low temperature kill. So, despite the extreme weather, it is not likely we have had any severe problems on our lawns.

It's a good idea to spend some time in early spring cleaning up the lawn and grounds around the home. Pick up broken tree limbs and other debris that has accumulated. You may need to rake the lawn to remove stones, leaves and smaller branches or twigs that could interfere with mowing operations later.

If you're thinking about rolling your lawn, exercise care. Rolling, basically, is a compaction process. It should not be done when the soil is very wet. It must be done, however, before the lawn dries out completely or there will be little good accomplished by the rolling process.

As soon as the weather is suitable — when there will be several days of 40 degree or higher days — pruning shrubs and trees is in order. Don't prune when the temperature is expected to dip below freezing that night. Pruning wounds need a few days before hard freezes.

Cut out dead and diseased branches and any that are too close, where one is rubbing against another.

Shrubs in crowded areas need pruning back to keep them in bounds and tree limbs that interfere with mowing, walkways, etc. should be pruned. Keep in mind the overall appearance of the plants as you prune. Don't just whack off a limb. Stand back and visualize what the plant will look like with the branch removed.

The Pickaway County Extension Office has information on pruning trees and shrubs.

Settlement Reached In Civil Case

Following a day-long court session Thursday, a settlement was reached at the close of the civil trial involving La Rena and William Eversole, Route 1, Williamsport, and Circle Transport Inc., Circleville, and Charles Ditty, Columbus.

Mrs. Eversole claimed that Ditty, driver of a tractor-trailer owned by Circle Transport, drove the vehicle off a loading platform at the RCA plant while she was in the process of loading the vehicle.

She claimed injuries in the incident, and William K. Eversole as her husband brought action for loss of services and consortium.

Attorneys for the defendants, James Graham and Michael Romanello of Columbus, claimed Mrs. Eversole was contributory negligent.

Attorneys for the Eversoles were Stephen Gussler and Leo Hall.

A Page Of Opinion

Climatic Fluctuations

Until this winter's aberrations, remarks such as these were common:

"A change in our climate is taking place... within the memory even of the middle-aged. Snows are less frequent and less deep. They do not even lie, below the mountains, more than one, two or three days, and very rarely a week."

"The elderly inform me the earth used to be covered about three months in every year. The rivers, which then seldom failed to freeze over in the course of the winter, scarcely ever do so now."

That wasn't somebody talking in recent years. It was Thomas Jefferson writing his "Notes on the State of Virginia" in 1761!

Jefferson did not offer any theory for the climatic changes so apparent in his time. In those days the study of tidal currents, glaciation and other factors was not advanced. Records of water levels and temperatures were too sparse to mean much. But what is happening now has been described as an age of rising seas.

What is the connection between climatic changes and sea water levels? It is that as the polar ice cap recedes, it releases enough water to raise the surface of the sea appreciably; conversely, the oceans recede again as the ice cap expands.

Science has enough geological and other evidence to know that what is happening is nothing new. Greenland had a fairly mild climate once, and may have it again. In the grand course of time much of North America may be under the ocean again, and emerge higher and drier than before.

Grapes Help Kill Viruses, Data Shows

WASHINGTON (AP) — The medicinal value of grapes and wine, long touted in folklore of many countries, is getting a boost from science with the discovery that grapes kill viruses.

For centuries, people worldwide have praised the healing benefits of the grape. Roman soldiers used to pour wine into wounds and ancient Egyptian warriors mixed wine with the unfamiliar waters of countries they invaded.

Although it was known for many years that wine kills bacteria, Canadian scientists only recently discovered the antiviral properties.

In a report to the journal Applied and Environmental Microbiology, researchers for the Canadian Department of Health and Welfare in Ottawa say grapes, grape juice, raisins and wines show antiviral activity in the test tube.

Microbiologists Dr. Jack Konowalchuk and Joan I. Speirs said grapes and grape juice were stronger viral killers than wines. And in every case, red wines were more potent against viruses than white wines.

The researchers said there was no way of knowing how these test tube results might apply to human health. But all the viruses in the experiments were those that affect humans, such as herpes simplex and polio virus, which cause herpes infections and polio.

"It is not the policy of the government to advocate drinking wine or anything else," Konowalchuk said in an interview Thursday. "But judging from these results, I would say grape juice is a very beneficial drink."

The researchers said the antibacterial properties of wine have been attributed to natural chemicals found in grapes, such as tannic acid and phenols.

Konowalchuk said he suspects the phenols may affect the viruses by binding to them and preventing them from infecting cells and multiplying.

The researchers found that the ability to inactivate viruses comes from grape skins and not the pulp. They also found that white wine, less effective than red, had lower phenol content and attributed this more to the process of making white wine from juice only.

Konowalchuk said his research is funded entirely by the Canadian government and has no connection with the grape or wine industries.

"This time, when we clean out the basement, we do solemnly swear not to keep things that might come in handy some day."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

There was a time when most of us in the practice of medicine discounted the value of acupuncture because not enough was yet known about it. Today, more and more evidence is being accumulated to explain how acupuncture works for the relief of pain in some cases.

Dr. Bruce H. Pomeranz, of the University of Toronto, has long suspected that some hormone factor was responsible for the control of pain by acupuncture.

Recently, his studies pointed out that acupuncture stimulates the brain to release a special substance, endorphins. These hormone-like substances circulate in the blood, and are thought to block the pathways of pain.

His experimental work on animals indicates that Dr. Pomeranz's concepts are worthy of note.

Zinc is a mineral that is intriguing many doctors and, especially, pediatricians. Dr. Philip A. Walravens, of the University of Colorado Medical Center, believes "there may be as many children with too little zinc in their diets as those with iron deficiency." He and his associates in the Department of Pediatrics believe that young infants and children who have poor appetites and are not developing as rapidly as expected may be suffering from a deficiency in zinc. Their investigations show that zinc deficiency is a significant problem, even in pre-school children. They urge physicians who are faced with the problem of poor eating habits to send specimens of the blood and the hair of the child to laboratories specially equipped to test for this problem.

Manufacturers of formulas for infants and children are now adding supplemental zinc to their preparations.

Roquefort and blue cheese contain penicillin. Dr. Michael J. Fellner, of the New York Medical College, called attention to an interesting case of severe hives that was traced to the penicillin in these cheeses.

A patient of his, after having taken penicillin, had developed hives, fever and swelling of the joints. All this disappeared when the penicillin was discontinued and when she was given an antihistamine.

Later, all the symptoms again appeared even though she was no longer taking penicillin. This time it was found that her "addiction" to blue cheese and Roquefort cheese was the offender.

When the cheeses were discontinued, the hives disappeared and never returned.

Army Restores Order In Mexican Outbreak

OAXACA, Mexico (AP) — The army has restored order in the south Mexican state of Oaxaca after 10 days of clashes between police and demonstrating students, townspeople and landless Indians in which at least 16 persons were killed.

The state governor opposed by the students, Manuel Zarate Aquino, took a leave of absence "in order not to hurt my people," and there were indications that a 13-month dispute which divided the state university into two factions might be settled.

Zarate Aquino was replaced as governor by Gen. Eliseo Jimenez Ruiz, who commanded the military operation two years ago in which the country's most wanted guerrilla, Lucio Cabanas, was killed.

Defense Secretary Felix Galvan Lopez ordered the troops in Thursday after police the night before battled student marchers in the state capital demanding the ouster of the governor. A demonstrator was killed, and 19 other persons were injured.

Earlier, the police had battled with Indian peasants armed with machetes Monday night in the village of Montenegro Lallana and on Feb. 22 with townspeople in the town of Juchitan demanding the release of student demonstrators for land reform. At least 15 persons were killed in those clashes.

Oaxaca's business community staged a two-day strike Monday and Tuesday, demonstrating support for the governor and demanding strong measures to insure that the tourist trade was not scared off. The students took to the streets for antigovernment demonstrations, and the police went into action frequently to scatter them.

The violence stemmed from more than a year of dissension at the local university. It began in January 1976 when a student faction refused to recognize the appointment of Guillermo Garcia Manzano as rector.

Court Refuses Hearing Delay

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indiana Supreme Court Thursday refused to delay a hearing on a defense motion to reduce the $1.5 million bond set for accused kidnaper Anthony Kirtis.

The hearing is scheduled today and also will air a defense motion to drop charges against the 44-year-old Indianapolis real estate speculator. Kirtis is accused of abducting mortgage company officer Richard Hall, 42, from his downtown Office Feb. 8 and holding him hostage three days.

The high court did agree to meet March 18 to hear a defense request for a special prosecutor on grounds James Kelley reneged on a promise of immunity to Kirtis.

What Influences Your Child?

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Which is more important in influencing the actions of a young person - his (her) heredity, or his environment?

Asking parents for their opinion is little help in solving this ancient question.

The mother or father of a rebellious or anti-social youth will likely say that the environment of the times, including the influence of television, is responsible for behavior.

The parents of striving, adjusted, accepting and acceptable children will, as modestly as feasible, claim that heredity is all-important.

Science has failed to provide a sound answer, but a British psychiatrist has conducted a test which would seem to indicate that heredity is more potent a factor in youth behavior than environment.

Dr. James Shields, an English psychiatrist, some time ago searched out 44 sets of identical twins who had been raised in different homes than their twin brothers or sisters.

This was said to be the largest group of "separated" identical twins ever gathered together in the interest of research.

Dr. Shields compared these 44 pairs with another group of 44 fraternal twins who had been raised, together, in the same household environment.

Using I.Q. and personality tests, as well as interviews and questionnaires, he attempted to establish each twin's attitudes, mannerisms and current life situations.

The findings:

The identical twins, who had seldom (or never met their brother or sister before this study, were much more alike in personality, intelligence, temperament, attitude and mannerisms than the fraternal twins who had been brought up in the same household.

Dr. Shields announced that he was "cautious about drawing too many conclusions" from his study.

Still, the tests would seem to be "powerful evidence of the importance of heredity over environment," he said.

So — if your child is wonderful, take credit.

If he's not, remember these tests are inconclusive.

But, oh-oh... could the birth experience itself be a major influence on future behavior and personality?

The answer appears to be yes.

If you "take the violence out of childbirth," you'll have a better child; French physician Frederick Leboyer has yet another study to prove this.

Most babies born in hospitals are pulled out of their warm, dark womb-world into a bright, often air-conditioned (brrrr) room. As if this weren't shock enough, they are then given a brisk slap on the derriere, and the umbilical cord is cut as soon as possible.

Dr. Leboyer wondered if a more cordial welcome might not produce a better child. In the middle-class Paris hospital where he practices, he arranged for the delivery rooms to be warm and softly lit, with quiet music playing during labor. When the infant emerges from the room, it is massaged and then placed in bath water the temperature of the amniotic fluid he just left. The umbilical cord is left uncut until it stops throbbing.

A follow-up study of 120 children, aged one through three, who had been delivered by the Leboyer method, showed them to be superior in motor skills, language ability and general development to children born in the conventional mode. According to Psychology Today, reporting on the experiment, they walked earlier, had better psychomotor functioning, and were easier to toilet-train than other babies.

Heredity, environment, a tranquil birth with Muzak and massage - apparently everything counts, when you're raising a young human being.

Army Tells Florea: Stay Home

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Seven years ago, Larry Florea says, the Army told him to go home and wait for orders, which never came. Now, after his arrest for being absent without leave, they've told him the same thing.

Florea was arrested last week and sent to Ft. Knox, an Army base about 40 miles south of here. Florea asked for an honorable discharge, saying he had tried without success for seven years to learn his Army status and had been waiting orders all that time.

The Army let Florea go home to Blanchester, Ohio, on Tuesday and gave him until Monday to return. Then, on Thursday, he finally got his orders. In effect, he was told to keep waiting.

Florea says he was ordered to report to Ft. Eustis, Va., in 1971 but was sent home because his records had been lost. He says he went back a second time only to be sent home again.

"I have been checking in over the past seven years," Florea said Thursday. "In '71 I checked about every other month. In '72 I checked about every five months, each time I was told that the Army knew where I was at and not to worry."

Then recently, he applied for an honorable discharge so that he could get a Veterans Administration loan. The Defense Department advised him to turn himself in.

He did, and found that the Army had him listed as a deserter.

After going back to Ohio the second time, Florea got married, found a job and started raising a family. His arrest last week has caused him financial woes, according to his attorney, Jerry D. Bryant.

"He's receiving the same orders now he got seven years ago," Bryant said. "Is this going to end it? Will they make a determination? Will they let ride until the publicity dies down? I don't think they want to make a decision."

Florea was told Thursday that he can go back to work, and the 26-year-old mechanic said he was pleased at that prospect for financial reasons.

"I'm happy that I'm going to remain home, but I don't want to be kept around for another seven years," he said. "I don't know what I am."

Bryant said he has documents and affidavits to prove that Florea tried to learn his status during the past seven years.

Capt. Fred Bowman, commander of the personnel control facility at Ft. Knox, told Florea by telephone Thursday that the affidavits have been received.

"Due to the fact that most of the events in your case happened so long ago, it is taking time to locate the people you named as witnesses and obtain their statements as well as recover the pertinent documents involved."

"In view of this, I am extending your leave for an indefinite period to ensure that I have an opportunity to properly gather and review all the information about your case," Bowman said. "I will call you or send you a letter once a week to advise you of the status of the case and as new developments occur."

But Florea said he's not happy with that. He wants out, with an honorable discharge.

"I just don't know what they are going to do," he said.

His wife, Janet, 22, said she's confused about the whole matter and wants to see it resolved.

"They told him seven years ago to go home 'til further notice, and now they are telling him the same thing," she said. "He's glad to go back to work, but he feels like they're trying to put him off."

Bryant said his client is afraid the Army will call him back at any time. He said unless the matter is settled, satisfactorily for his client, a $5 million lawsuit may be filed against the government.

"The man has been put through some tricks by the Army," Bryant said. "Our No. 1 goal is still the honorable discharge."

Bar Rhodes, Grandchildren

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "It wasn't of any great concern to me," Gov. James A. Rhodes says of an incident in which he was denied entry to a White House dinner because he brought two of his young grandchildren along.

Rhodes showed up at the dinner Tuesday night following the National Governor's Conference with Jamie, 9, and Melissa, 12, children of his daughter Sue and her husband Richard Moore. A White House staffer barred the governor of Ohio, reportedly because of the unexpected presence of the children.

President Carter later called Rhodes to express his regret over the mixup, an aide to the governor said.

"The President was very gracious to call," Rhodes said Thursday. "The matter is closed."

His aide added: "I'll tell you how concerned about it he (Rhodes) is. I've been with him two days, and he hasn't mentioned it."

Track, Student Council Sponsor Foul-A-Thon

REAL DETERMINATION — Mrs. Betty Searcy, Westfall teacher, just released the basketball, trying hard for a basket. The participant in the foul-a-thon is an algebra, geometry and advanced math teacher.

By JO CAROL HAWKES

Suspense is the word when describing the activities that took place in the gym last Thursday and Friday during the lunch periods. Students gasped and cheered as they watched shots teeter around the rim of the basket.

All this was part of the cooperation of teachers, students and co-ordinators as they aided both the Student Council and Track team in this terrific money-making event, a foul-a-thon.

During the week prior to the event, students made pledges to various participating teachers in the amounts ranging from 1 cent to 10 cents. At this time the students also made predictions as to how many baskets they felt that teacher would sink.

Those students that correctly guessed the shots made would be eligible for a drawing to win either a Westfall jacket or basketball. The jacket was won by Tammy Gottier and the basketball by Rick Hafner.

Teachers went all out in support of

Mini Courses Offered At Middle School

By EMILIE CALDWELL

This year the Westfall Middle School is trying something different by offering mini courses. These courses last only one six weeks and students may select a new course each six weeks.

A class in horsemanship is taught by Mrs. Sharon Selmon, librarian. Her students have learned about the origin and development of American Light Horse Breeds, selecting, caring, training, and handling of horses. She has had speakers, shown movies, and plans several field trips. "It is fun, which is unusual," was her comment.

Richard Everman, principal, teaches a class of career and guidance education. This class was designed to give insight into certain careers, which would help a student plan their high school schedule.

A class in mechanics is taught by Donald Davis. Students have learned about engines and other mechanical items.

Mrs. Crites teaches a class of home economics for boys. The boys have learned to cook and sew and she commented, "It's a lot of fun. Boys are easier to teach, since they don't think they all ready know how to do everything."

Miss Ann Posey teaches drama and speech. The students work on the basics, by doing rhymes to avoid "mushmouth," play charades to become accustomed to being in front of people, and give short speeches. When asked about the course, she said, "I love it. It makes the day much more pleasant to have something to look forward to and the students seem to like it."

Denmark Student Notes Difference In Classrooms

BENTE LUND

By DEBBIE BOYER

A new face in the halls of Westfall is Bente Lund. Bente, 17, is an exchange student from Denmark. She is presently staying with the Marvin Thompson family of 25230 Chillicothe Pike, Williamsport.

Bente said that, "I enjoy the many friendly people and they are willing to help explain anything that I don't understand."

Art is Bente's favorite subject, but she likes all of her classes. Bente said that the differences in her old school and Westfall is, "In my other school in Denmark, the teachers change rooms instead of the students, but everyone has a ten minute break between each class. We had a smoking lounge but no dress code or any other rules, except for one which is show consideration."

Bente also enjoys swimming and crafts. She dislikes having to hurry to each class.

Bente would like to say thank you to everyone at Westfall and we all wish Bente the best of luck!

Transport Center Money Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, has urged Congress to appropriate $13.5 million to locate a federal vehicle test facility at the Ohio Transportation Research Center in East Liberty.

Glenn told Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Transportation, in a letter that the facility, approved by Congress in 1970 but never funded, is needed at a time when "we expect to see new vehicle designs related to energy, improved fuel efficiency and improved safety measures."

Any child or adopted child of an honorably discharged veteran or an honorably discharged veteran is eligible to apply for an annual scholarship of $500. Financial need shall be a portion of the selection criteria. The recipient must attend an accredited college or university. Forms are in Mr. Greer's office.

10 Commandments For Wives

DEAR ABBY: About ten years ago you gave the editor of our church bulletin permission to reprint two of your columns. One was your "Ten Commandments For Wives," and the other was your "Ten Commandments For Husbands."

Will you please run them again?

MRS. N.D.G.

DEAR MRS. G.: With pleasure.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR WIVES

1. Defile not thy body neither with excessive foods, tobacco nor alcohol, that thy days may be long in the house which thy husband provideth for thee.

2. Putteth thy husband before thy mother, thy father, thy daughter and thy son, for he is thy lifelong companion.

COMPANY DINNER

County chicken, rice, snap beans, salad, and toffee cream cake.

County Chicken

A La Alvin Kerr

A spicy adaptation of Country Captain.

3½-pound roasting chicken, cut up

Juice of 1 lime

¼ cup dried currants

3 tablespoons Madeira wine

¼ cup flour mixed with 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper

¼ cup butter

Medium onion, finely chopped

Medium green pepper, finely chopped

Small green apple, pared cored and finely chopped

1 clove garlic, minced

2 tablespoons curry powder

1 teaspoon dried thyme

1-pound can peeled plum tomatoes, undrained

1 chicken bouillon cube dissolved in ¾ cup boiling water

Coat chicken with lime juice and refrigerate overnight. Soak currants in Madeira and let stand at room temperature overnight. Drain chicken; coat with seasoned flour. In a 12-inch skillet in the hot butter brown the chicken; remove to an oblong 3-quart glass baking dish (13½ by 8¾ by 1¾ inches) or similar utensil and arrange in one layer.

To drippings in skillet add the remaining ingredients; heat, stirring to get up any brown particles; stir in currants and any Madeira they have not absorbed; pour over chicken; poke any currants on top of chicken into sauce. Bake, uncovered, in a preheated 350-degree oven until chicken is browned and tender — about 45 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Hedges Chapel Pot-Luck Dinner

Hedges Chapel Church will hold a pot-luck dinner following the church services March 6.

The meat, rolls, and dressing will be furnished.

Members are asked to bring salads, vegetables and desserts.

The public is invited to attend.

Chapter 90, OES To Have Meeting

Circleville Chapter 90, OES, will meet 8 p.m., March 8 in the Masonic Temple.

Officers are to wear chapter dress. Initiatory work will begin.

3. Thou shalt not nag.
4. Permit no one to tell thee that thou are having a hard time of it; neither thy mother, thy sister nor thy neighbor, for the Judge will not hold her guiltless who letteth another disparage her husband.

5. Thou shalt not withhold affection from thy husband, for every man loveth to be loved.

6. Forget not the virtue of cleanliness and modest attire.

7. Forgive with grace, for who among us do not need forgiveness?

8. Remember that the frank approval of thy husband is worth more to thee than the admiring glances of a hundred strangers.

9. Keep thy home in good order, for out of it cometh the joys of thy old age.

10. Honor thy Lord thy God all the days of thy life, and thy children will rise up and call thee blessed.

Next Saturday I'll print the "Ten Commandments For Husbands."

DEAR ABBY: We've always taught our children to address adults as "Mr." and "Mrs." But we have some neighbors who are older than we are, and they keep asking our children to call them "Rita" and "Frank."

Training children is hard enough nowadays without neighbors like these to complicate matters. We've always been on friendly terms with them and don't want any trouble now. So how do we handle it?

ANNOYED PARENT

DEAR PARENTS: Tell your neighbors (privately, of course) that you have instructed your children to address adults as "Mr." and "Mrs.", and when adults ask to be addressed by their first names, they confuse the children and encourage them to disregard their parents' wishes.

If you tell them in a nice way they will probably cooperate. And if they don't, it won't hurt your children to learn that not everyone conforms to a social code, and Rita and Frank are two such nonconformists.

New Instant Lottery Set

CLEVELAND (AP) — Instant game No. 2 is on the Ohio Lottery Commission's drawing boards, and lottery players will be able to start buying tickets in about a month.

A commission spokesman said Thursday the game will continue until $55 million worth of tickets have been sold.

Last year's highly successful instant game sold about $54.1 million worth of tickets in less than three months, giving a big boost to lagging lottery income.

Lottery spokesman Dennis Smith said current weekly sales are down to about $1.1 million but are expected to triple when Instant No. 2 goes into operation.

Under rules approved by the commission Thursday, players who find the right combination under silver foil on the tickets can win prizes of $2, $5, $10 — which can be paid on the spot — or bigger prizes of $100, $1,000 and $10,000 — which will be paid at regional offices.

Then, at the end of the game, a drawing will be held to award the grand prize of $1,000 a week for life — with at least $1 million assured.

The finalists will be selected weekly from winners of the three smallest prizes.

Even the losers get a chance at big money through drawings that will be conducted for every 3.6 million tickets sold.

Top prizes in the losers lottery will be $50,000.

Honest Man Rewarded

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Roger Young, who earns $153 a week as a janitor, doesn't believe in keeping things that aren't his.

When he found a wallet on the shelf of a pay telephone in the state Capitol basement recently, he turned it in to his boss. Had he bothered to look inside, he would have found ten $100 bills.

"I wouldn't care if it was one dollar or a million dollars," said Young, 30, of nearby Mission Hollow. "I wouldn't attempt to keep a man's billfold. I lost mine once, and I never found it."

Dale Smith, president of Electrofert Inc., the owner of the wallet said he was pleased the wallet was returned and rewarded Young with one of the $100 bills.

The first officially printed ballot was used by voters in Louisville, Ky., and Massachusetts in 1888. It was patterned after ballots used in Australia.

No Deal On Reserve Ruling Plan

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Warren Spannaus said Wednesday he will not agree beforehand to accept the decision of the Minnesota Supreme Court on the will make to both sides. Spannaus also said he would not have advised Perpich to make a trip to Cleveland Tuesday to discuss the case with officials of Reserve and its parent companies.

"I was not in favor of the idea. I told him I wouldn't have recommended it," Spannaus told reporters.

Spannaus and eight attorneys or agency officials involved in the Reserve case met with the Independent-Republican caucus of the Minnesota Senate for two hours Wednesday. The Senate minority had asked for the session, claiming that there has been unclear testimony from the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) and the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

Perpich said Tuesday night he tried to make the point to Reserve officials that Minnesotans want the case brought to an end.

While Perpich did not spell it out, he apparently was setting the scene to ask state officials and Reserve to agree that "this is it" once the Minnesota Supreme Court rules.

The court will hear arguments April 7 on whether Reserve Mining Co. must be given permits for taconite tailings disposal at a site known as Milepost 7.

Per capita tax burdens at the state and local levels ranged from a high of $1,025 in New York to a low of $405 in Arkansas during fiscal 1975, according to the Commerce Clearing House.

Rabbis Urge Conversion Efforts

NEW YORK (AP) — To counter losses to Judaism, some rabbis are urging active efforts to bring in new converts.

A "worldwide program for conversions," advocates Rabbi Gilbert Killin of Flint, Mich. A growing number of others are pressing for similar initiatives to add new adherents.

Many people "would be delighted to become Jewish if only somebody asked them," says Rabbi Killin, but he adds that they generally encounter "indifference or even subtle hostility" to it.

"All but the most determined are effectively turned off," he says.

Citing a "rising interest" in Judaism, he says Jewish schools, synagogues and publications should introduce materials to encourage the "desirability of attracting converts" among non-Jews, and appreciation for them.

Traditionally, ever since the ancient scattering of Jews from Israel in the diaspora, Judaism generally has avoided active pursuit of converts outside those born into the heritage, a policy steaming from periods of community isolation.

But in ancient Israel, before destruction of that state and the rise of Christianity, Jewish proselytizing was common. They would "traverse sea and land to make a single proselyte," notes Matthew 23:15.

Jews need to reaffirm the "ancient respectability of conversionary efforts," Rabbi Killin writes in Judaism, a scholarly quarterly of the American Jewish Congress.

Reform Judaism, one of the three wings of American Judaism, has been most open to converts in recent times, and a recent survey shows a majority of conservative rabbis now approve and participate in conversion programs.

Forty-two per cent of them favor active programs for it, while an additional 50 per cent accept conversions, particularly among intermarried couples, making a total of 90 per cent who affirm conversions.

Thirty-seven per cent reported an upward trend in the number of conversions while 50 per cent felt the rate has been about the same for four years.

A recently formed organization, the National Jewish Hospitality Committee, set up with headquarters in Philadelphia to welcome and assist converts, reports a growing demand for conversion to Judaism and an increasing number of rabbis across the country joining in the effort.

"There has probably never been a time since Constantine (in the fourth century) when Judaism was more attractive to large numbers of people," says Rabbi Killin.

"The fact is that there are significant numbers of converts without our trying to find them."

Orthodox Judaism, however, continues to discourage conversions, and lays down elaborate, lengthy requirements for it.

The state of Utah takes its name from the Ute Indians.

The Blessing

Not many people say "Grace" anymore. They sit down and eat. Often they don't even eat together, as a family unit. Sometimes the TV set is the mealtime focus of attention.

When you do go to a house where people say Grace, it can be uncomfortable. You fold your hands and lower your head, but you feel foolish.

Why? Giving thanks to God is a habit that goes awayback. So is going to church.

If we turn away from good habits, things that have endured, could it be that we're the losers?

1977 Fishing Licenses Available

Ohio's 1977 fishing licenses are now available at more than 4,000 locations throughout the state, according to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources' Division of Wildlife.

The new licenses are required as of March 1 to take fish, frogs, turtles, and mussels from all Ohio waters. They may be purchased at many retail outlets, including most hardware and sporting goods stores.

"Fishing opportunities are increasing each year," said Dale Haney, Chief of the Wildlife Division. "The over 247 inland lakes with more than 123,371 acres of water in addition to Lake Erie and 7,000 miles of fishing streams, make the fishing license a real bargain."

There are three classes of Ohio fishing licenses:

—Annual resident license, for any person age 16 through 64 who has lived in Ohio for the six months prior to application. The cost is $4.

—Permanent license, for any person 65 or older who has lived in Ohio for the six months prior to application. The cost is $4 and the license is valid for life.

—Non-resident license, for any person that has not lived in Ohio for the six months prior to application. The cost is $10 for an annual license and $4 for a seven day license.

A writing fee of 50 cents is charged for each license and a copy of the publication, "1977 Fishing Regulations," is provided with each purchase. The regulations may also be obtained by writing the Publications Center, Ohio Department of Natural Resources, Fountain Square, Columbus 43224.

A fishing license is not required of a person who is less than 16 years of age or for anyone fishing in a privately owned pond. Additional individual license exemptions are explained in the fishing regulations brochure.

Tigers Blitz London In Sectional

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Great work at the foul line, a tough man to man defense and a couple of fine performances from the bench were the key factors in Circleville's 61-56 defeat of London Friday night as the Tigers won the Class AA Sectional finals at Teays Valley.

The win is the third straight Sectional title for Circleville and will send the Tigers against state ranked Mifflin 7 p.m. Tuesday in the District tournament at Ohio Wesleyan.

The Tigers put on a tremendous foul shooting exhibition against London as they made their first 17 shots from the line and ended the night hitting 27 of 34 from the line.

This, coupled with a defense that limited London to only 14 shots from the field in the first half, gave the Tigers a sweet victory.

It was a terrific team effort with a lot of great play under pressure by the Tigers.

After Brent Wright got into foul trouble Tim Milstead came in and played what has to be the best game of his career as he picked up 14 points, led the Tigers in rebounds and was outstanding on defense.

And the fine job that Eric Pontious did coming off the bench. After London's great Gary McNeal had hit two straight buckets to run his count to 21 points for the night and cut the score to a 46-44 edge by the Tigers with seven minutes left to play, Pontious came into the game, went head to head with McNeal and held him scoreless the rest of the way.

Frank Merrill, Toren Bensonhaver, Brent Wright and Tom Taylor, despite the fact he had been ill, put a defense on London that was as sticky as peanut butter on the roof of your mouth.

Merrill led the Tigers with 15 points, Bensonhaver and Milstead each added 14 while Wright and Taylor both had nine.

McNeal paced the London attack with 21 points, Chuck Portman hit 14, Mike Cochran added 11, Rory Walker tallied six and Shawn Silcott had four.

Circleville was 17 of 37 from the floor for 46 per cent while London hit 23 of 45 from the field for 51 per cent. The Red Raiders were 10 of 16 from the charity stripe for 62 per cent.

London won the battle of the boards,

31-23, with Milstead and Bensonhaver leading the Tigers and Cochran and Portman topping the Red Raiders.

In the turnover department it was a dead heat with both teams misplaying the ball 15 times.

"I felt the keys to the victory were our first half defense where we limited them to 14 shots and the way we picked apart their zone defense in the second quarter," Circleville coach Jim Bailey commented

MERRILL UP — Frankie Merrill made only four points from the field Friday night against London in sectional tournament play but added 11 at the charity stripe for a 15 point total. He paced the Tigers to a 61-56 win.

"Eric Pontious' fine defensive job on McNeal, Merrill's attack on their defense, the great defensive work of Bensonhaver, Taylor's steady floor game, Wright's good play before he got into foul trouble and Milstead's greatest game of his career under pressure all added up to a fine team victory," Bailey said.

"Our kids will play their hardest against Wilmington tomorrow night but we must be thinking about our upcoming game with Mifflin in the District tournament," Bailey stated.

Portman hit the opening bucket for London at 7:26 of the first period but Taylor came right back with a pair of baskets to put Circleville on top at the 6:30 mark and the Tigers never were behind again.

Four straight foul shots by Merrill enabled the Tigers to hold a 12-11 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Circleville began to open the London zone up in the second quarter and held a 28-20 margin at halftime.

In the third quarter the Tigers did not get a bucket until Bensonhaver hit from underneath at the 1:46 mark.

But the Tigers managed to maintain their lead as they hit 11 straight foul shots before Bensonhaver's basket.

London pulled within two points with 3:21 to go but the free throw shooting of the Tigers pulled them away and they led 43-38 at the buzzer.

McNeal cut the Tiger lead to 46-44 with a pair of driving layups at the 6:51 mark. But, in came Pontious to seal McNeal the rest of the way home.

The lead varied for the rest of the quarter but London never got closer than five as Circleville got closer to the District.

Circleville will host Wilmington tonight at the Mill St. gym in a make up game from earlier in the season. The reserve game will start at 6:30 p.m. and the doors will open at 6 p.m.

Georgia Tech Upsets Louisville, 56-55

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Coach Denny Crum of 10th-ranked Louisville says basketball is "a crazy game because you can pick out 100 times each year where the team that's supposed to win doesn't."

Crum faced one of those times Friday night when Georgia Tech upset the heavily-favored Cardinals 56-55 in the Metropolitan Conference tournament, using a patient offense that took Louisville out of its running game.

The victory earned Tech, 18-9, a spot opposite No. 14 Cincinnati, 24-4, in tonight's championship game with the winner moving into next week's NCAA Midwest Regional tournament.

Cincinnati advanced with a 68-67 triumph over Memphis State on Gary Yoder's two free throws with only four seconds left.

"Our youngsters have to play harder than most others because of their physical ability," said Tech Coach Dwane Morrison. "These are solid people."

Morrison's "solid people" were among the least likely to reach the finals of the Metro, but they did it with a patient offense that left the Cardinals frustrated. Louisville had 23 turnovers, allowing Tech to win despite its 35 per cent field goal shooting.

Tech, trailing most of the night, went in front to stay at 52-51 on an 18-foot jumper by Tico Brown and built three-point leads on two free throws by Jim Wood and a baseline jumper by Randy Foster that made it 56-53 with 1:49 left.

Rick Wilson's free throws cut it to one 48 seconds later, but Tech survived the final hectic minute to hand Louisville only its sixth setback in 27 games.

Wood led all scorers with 23 points and Wesley Cox paced the Cards with 17.

Cincinnati used a similar patient style in the nightcap to down Memphis, which lost at home for only the second time in 19 games.

Memphis State appeared to have the game in control, erasing a late four-point deficit on a 20-footer by Alvin Wright and a pair of free throws by Dexter Reed, giving the Tigers a 67-66 lead with 44 seconds left. James Bradley missed the first shot of a one-and-one situation, giving Yoder his opportunity to win the game.

Yoder led Bearcat scoring with 18 points and Wright had 23 for the losers. One tournament championship and several other final matchups were decided in other college basketball action Friday night.

Six overtime free throws by Daryl Winston carried Kansas State to a comeback 72-67 triumph over Missouri and the championship of the Big Eight tournament at Kansas City.

Bob Stokes scored 16 points to help Virginia surprise 18th-ranked Clemson 72-60 and reach the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament against North Carolina. The sixth-ranked Tar Heels got 22 points from Walter Davis and downed North Carolina State 70-56 in the other semifinal at Greensboro, N.C.

Otis Birdsong scored 38 points and the Houston Cougars made 11 of their first 13 shots on their way to beating Texas Tech 94-83 and reaching the finals of the Southwest Conference tournament against seventh-ranked Arkansas.

Villanova moved into the Eastern Collegiate Basketball League's final playoff against Duquesne when Keith Herron scored six points in overtime to lead the Wildcats to an 83-75 triumph over West Virginia. Duquesne got 20 points from Norm Nixon to post an upset 89-82 victory over Massachusetts in the other semifinal.

Melvin Jones amassed 29 points to pace West Texas State's 79-68 upset of Wichita State in the Missouri Valley Conference tournament. The triumph sent the Buffaloes into the finals against Southern Illinois, which is assured a berth in the NCAA regional playoffs because West Texas State is on probation and prohibited from participating in the tournament.

At Easton, Pa., freshman guard Kurt Kanaskie scored 21 points to power LaSalle past Lafayette 86-80 and into the finals of East Coast Conference tournament. Hofstra, on 21 points by John Irving, beat Temple 71-58 to gain the right to meet LaSalle.

Mark Mattos made two free throws with 22 seconds left to give Weber State a 69-68 triumph over Gonzaga, which will meet Idaho State in the finals of the Big Sky tournament. Idaho State downed Montana State 93-77.

Ralph Garner scored 22 points and Calvin Garrett 21 as Austin Peay topped Murray State 82-75 to reach the final of the Ohio Valley Conference tournament at Clarksville, Tenn. They'll meet Middle Tennessee State, which drubbed Morehead 92-70 on 24 points by Bob Martin and 23 by Lewis Mack.

And in a President's Athletic Conference game, Carroll University's Blue Streaks gave Coach Ed Janka a farewell gift by beating Washington and Jefferson 76-60. Janka announced his resignation before the game.

Buddy Bell 'Old Timer' With Tribe

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Buddy Bell has seen a lot of different faces in his five years as a Cleveland Indian, and most of them have been wearing Cleveland uniforms.

"It's kind of sad to see the guys you've played with go," said the 25-year-old Bell, who now might be called sort of an elder statesman with the Tribe due to his tenure.

He's played under two managers, two general managers, a handful of coaches and an unspecified number of ballplayers.

"But," he says philosophically, "every year there are new guys to take their place. You can't dwell on the fact that these guys are gone."

With the change of faces there have been other alterations, and Bell thinks one is more important than the rest. "It's been attitude," said Bell, who hit .281 last year and got 60 runs batted in for his best year as a pro.

As an example, Bell recalls a game last year.

"Last year in Milwaukee we had five healthy regulars and four guys who could hardly run or throw. Yet, we all went out there and played our butts off."

"We won the game in extra innings and that had to be the most satisfying win for me. Three years ago that wouldn't have happened. We wouldn't have given it all we had."

As for personal goals, Bell sees his as consistency.

"I don't want to have one good week, then three bad ones, or two good ones and two bad ones. I want to be on an even keel."

That pretty much characterizes his 1976 season, although he admits now he should have given in to Manager Frank Robinson and taken an occasional rest.

But he says he was afraid he'd "lose my groove" if he took a day off, and he's also jealous of seeing someone else playing his position.

"There is always somebody to take your place. I'd rather not give them an opportunity to do that," he said.

Larry Doby is back with his 1948 Cleveland teammate, Bob Lemon, as a Chicago White Sox coach. Former pitcher Lemon is the manager.

Hugh Hindman New OSU Athletic Chief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — In their search for a new director of Ohio State University's $6 million athletic program, OSU officials never left the campus.

What's more, the selection was made after interviewing only one man, Vice President of Student Affairs Richard Armitage said.

That man, Hugh Hindman, accepted the offer without hesitation and Friday was appointed to the job by the university's board of trustees.

Hindman, associate director of athletics at Ohio State since 1970, replaces Ed Weaver.

Weaver, 66, resigned Feb. 19, effective April 30, saying the position should be handled by a man younger than himself.

Hindman, who will be 50 next month, said he considers the appointment an honor and a challenge that he welcomes.

"I have a personal commitment to continue the great program that we have," Hindman said during a news conference following the appointment. "We all want to rise to the top of our professions and I think now that I am at the top of mine."

Reorganization within the athletic department and strengthening of women's athletics are among his foremost goals, Hindman said.

His salary as director will be $38,160 annually, an increase over his $32,600 associate director's salary, but less than the $39,800 earned by Weaver.

Weaver's salary was based on seven years experience, Armitage said, noting that OSU athletic director is and continues to be the third lowest paid in the Big Ten.

Armitage said he recommended Hindman after consulting with almost 50 persons, including the university's varsity coaches, student and faculty members of the Athletic Council, the alumni and development offices, athletic directors at other schools and the Big Ten conference office.

Pete Rose Hurt Slightly

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Cincinnati Reds batting star Pete Rose will miss several days practice while trying to recover from a chest muscle strain that has limited him to light drills.

The 36-year-old third baseman suffered the injury during batting practice Thursday when the two-time world champions officially opened spring training baseball camp.

Reds trainer Larry Starr said Rose may be sidelined several days.

"It's a day-to-day thing. We don't want him aggravating it any further," said Starr, who confirmed that Rose will be sidelined several days.

Rose, one of five unsigned players, is scheduled to meet again with management next week.

Rose is the only player among the 45 candidates being held back due to injury. Catcher Johnny Bench has an ear infection, but is working out.

Yankees Eye Possible Exhibition In Cuba

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The New York Yankees are awaiting Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's approval to play exhibition games in Cuba next month on an indirect invitation from Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

"We're ready and willing, but no club can go over there without the commissioner's approval," Yankee president Gabe Paul said Friday at the team's training camp here.

"He (Kuhn) has other ideas. He wants an all-star team to go, not individual clubs. Until he changes his mind we can't get clearance."

In a news conference Friday in Washington, Secretary of State Cyrus Vance said he supports Castro's proposal that the countries exchange athletic teams.

That put official approval on the Yankees and also for a combined 10-man basketball team from the South Dakota and South Dakota State universities. The Yankees want to visit the island April 1-3.

Asked if the Yankees specifically requested Kuhn's permission, Paul said: "Let's put it this way—he has approached us."

In New York, Kuhn said: "Our interest in Cuba continues, but that's as far as we can go. I will not and cannot make any further statements at this time."

Castro's first feeler to the Yankees was extended before Christmas through David LeFevre, a New York-based lawyer with contacts in Cuba. LeFevre said he has been in frequent contact about the matter with Cuban officials and Kuhn's office.

The Yankees already are scheduled to play exhibition games April 1-3 against the Baltimore Orioles, the University of North Carolina and the Detroit Tigers. Paul said any conflict could be ironed out if permission is granted for the trip to Cuba.

In other spring training camps: —The Philadelphia Phillies signed third baseman Mike Schmidt, the major league home run leader, to a six-year contract for around $2 million.

Asked if the long-term pact could tone down some of his incentive, Schmidt said: "I made $120,000 last year and never thought about it one time while I was on the field. I tried to carry the same personality out on the field and just play ball."

—Dave Kingman of the New York Mets, runner-up to Schmidt in the home run derby, remained unsigned and called the Mets' front office "conservative."

Said Kingman, who reportedly is seeking a five-year pact worth $3 million: "They want to keep things normal when all you have to do is look at what other clubs are paying to know they are not normal at all."

—The Cleveland Indians signed star pitcher Dennis Eckersley for three years and rookie hurler Tom McGough for one.

—The Texas Rangers lost the services of left-hander Roger Moret because of a circulatory problem in his arm that may require surgery. Moret came to the Rangers from Atlanta in a multi-player trade that sent slugger Jeff Burroughs to the Braves.

FPC Admits Slowness On Shortage

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Federal Power Commission could have acted earlier to encourage natural gas conservation and emergency purchases by utilities, an FPC official concedes.

But Daniel Boggs, assistant to FPC chairman Richard L. Dunham, said "90 to 95 per cent" of the blame for natural gas shortages should be attributed to the unusually cold winter weather.

Boggs testified at length Thursday before the Ohio Senate Energy and Public Utilities Committee which is investigating Ohio's major gas utilities.

"If everyone had turned their thermostats down to 65 in October, we obviously would be better off," he said. "But that's a hindsight consideration."

"We could have encouraged utilities to go into conservation mode earlier," Boggs said in answer to a question from Sen. William H. Mussey, R-14 Batavia. "It's tough to say we have the authority to force people to do that, but we could have encouraged it."

The FPC regulates interstate sale of natural gas.

The federal official said utilities could have been pressed to store unregulated, intrastate gas, but he contended, "if the weather doesn't turn out to be cold, then the people are going to be distressed at the higher prices."

Boggs confirmed that the FPC was studying a complaint filed by Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum against Columbia Gas Transmission Inc. in connection with the sale last October of more than 20.7 billion cubic feet of natural gas reserves to industrial users. The pipeline company subsequently fell short in supply to three Ohio gas companies: Columbia Gas of Ohio, Dayton Power & Light Co., and Cincinnati Gas and Electric.

"The commission will be making a decision," he said. Boggs said the FPC had been aware of the sale in October. But he said as winter approached, "Columbia was not seen as the most crippled pipeline."

Grange News

SALT CREEK GRANGE With the master Hoyt Timmons presiding, Saltcreek Valley Grange met at Wolfe Hall in Tarlton March 1.

For the C. W. A. committee, Mary DeLong announced the annual baking and sewing contest will be held at the April 5 meeting. She also explained the Costa Rica Care Program.

Paul Dunkle stated that the participation was excellent by the Pickaway County Grange Drill Team in the recent district competition. This group placed second. One of the many projects announced, was attendance at churches about the county.

Timmons cited excerpts from a recent National Grange News Letter. Emphasis was given preparation for federal support to block the Ag-Land Fund — a plan of "institutional giants" for buying $50 million worth of farm land through a mutual fund.

A letter was read from the state master giving details of the March 25 mortgage burning ceremony for the National Grange Building and the April 24-30 membership week.

In recognition of the patient and efficient service of all members having served as Women's Activity Chairmen, a decision was made to purchase special recognition pins. Greetings were prepared to send to Elsie DeLong, H. O. and Mary Clark, and Corilla Pontius.

With Don DeLong in charge, the fourth Degree team made preparation for the special annual County Degree Day.

Bob Zender Leads Citrus Open Golf

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Bob Zender was rapidly becoming established, back in 1971, as a 28-year-old Chicago stockbroker, saving a little money, playing a little golf.

The golf got a little better, and he was winning a flock of amateur titles, including three consecutive Illinois state titles and was second in a U.S. Amateur. He decided, at that rather advanced age, to turn pro.

"I have no regrets about waiting that long," said Zender. "Everybody's hindsight is 20-20. I really didn't think I was good enough. But I decided then that if I was going to do it, I'd better do it now."

He led his class in the PGA qualifying school and appeared on his way. But he hasn't made expenses since then, winning less than $60,000 in five years. The hard-hitting, 210-pound Zender, however, used his powerful drives to best advantage Friday, setting up the rest of his game for a five-under-par 67 that staked him to a one-stroke lead after two rounds of the $200,000 Florida Citrus Open Golf Tournament.

Zender is seeking his first tour title after compiling a two-round total of 136, eight under par on the 6,929-yard Rio Pinar Country Club course.

Just one shot back at 137 were chipper Joe Inman, who had a 69 despite a double bogey seven on his sixth hole, and first round leader Bill Rogers, who slipped to a 71.

Veteran Ken Still, with a second consecutive 69, and Bob Crissy were tied at 138. Crissy, a 36-year-old teaching pro at a driving range in Pompano Beach, Fla., didn't make a bogey on his way to a four-underpar 68.

The group at 139, five under par and only three shots out of the lead, included Australian Graham Marsh, Danny Edwards, Gary Koch and Mike Reid. Reid shot a 68, Marsh and Koch had 69s and Edwards a 70.

Arnold Palmer matched par 72 and was tied at 143, seven strokes behind, with defending champion Hale Irwin who had a 71. Lee Trevino shot a 72 in only his second start since back surgery last year and had a 145 total.

John Bellio ruined Piroski's shutout bid by scoring with four minutes remaining in the game. The Generals fell to 30-27-7.

In the only other IHL game Friday, the North division cellar-dwelling Port Huron Flags erupted for four second-period goals to beat the Columbus

Ehizuelen Sets Mark

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — For Illinois' Chroleton Ehizuelen, it was the same old story. For Michigan State's Herb Lindsay, the plot took a new twist.

Ehizuelen won his fourth straight high jump crown and Lindsay took his first two-mile title in finals action of the Big Ten's indoor track and field championships Friday.

"I couldn't believe it," Ehizuelen said. "I predicted this morning that I would jump 25-9. But I went one-quarter inch past."

"I could have had a 26-footer, but I tucked in right at the end because the pit is a little short," Ehizuelen said.

His jump set a new field house record surpassing the 24-8 1/4 mark set by runnerup James Henry of Michigan earlier this year.

Ehizuelen also qualified for today's 60-yard dash finals and will defend his triple jump title.

Lindsay, benefitting from the absence of defending two-mile champion Craig Virgin of Illinois, outran Indiana's Dan Visscher, 8:43.97 to 8:44.22.

Americans Lack Vitamin Knowledge

NUTLEY, N.J. (AP) — According to a recent nationwide survey conducted by the Response Analysis Corp., Americans know vitamins are important, yet lack specific vitamin information.

The study revealed that less than 20 per cent of those interviewed knew that vitamin B12 is missing in a totally vegetarian diet or that vitamin E may be low in high polyunsaturate diets. And just 10 per cent recognized that vitamin B2 is in particularly good supply in milk.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

FOR SUNDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Admonitions for this day: Do not complicate situations which are involved enough already, and DO be careful not to antagonize others.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Mixed influences. Keep on your toes. There's a special need for adaptability and efficiency — also a sense of humor.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): A better day than you may think at first, but it will need your help in order to bring out its hidden opportunities. Just one admonition: Be discreet.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Whether your day is to be devoted to many duties and little play or vice versa, your attitude must be hopeful and consistent if you would succeed. Romance favored.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): An energetic ally may come to your support, personally or financially. Push all worthwhile aims. Especially favored: outdoor pursuits, cultural interest.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): If faced with a "sticky" problem, face up to it squarely, analyze carefully and you will readily reach a solution. A day when your keen judgment will pay off.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Avoid a tendency toward pessimism. Why assume that things will not work out? Couple your lively imagination with your innate practicality and you can get around almost any situation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Don't leave things to chance. Here is a time for reviewing with an eye toward tightening up action, making plans for the coming week.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): A day in which you can really allow your imagination free rein. New ideas, generated by fine Jupiter influences, can be immensely beneficial to your career.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Don't let unexpected situations dismay you. Prevent them from crossing you up by being your usual philosophical self and stressing good management.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Entrust your affairs only to the trustworthy if you MUST put them in other hands but, where possible, handle what you can yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Restrain yourself, no matter how strong the urge to take direct action becomes. This is a day for planning — not for involvement in complex situations.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with great versatility, ambition and determination. You rarely let opportunity slip through your fingers and accept challenges with zest. You have a great liking for music, all the graphic arts, and could be highly successful in the entertainment field; would also make an outstanding writer, poet. In fact, you are capable of achieving anything to which you set your mind. ### Rescuers Near Man In Mine

TOWER CITY, Pa. (AP) — Ronald Adley welcomed the sweet music of a jackhammer beating through a 50-foot wall of hard coal today to free him from the chamber he has been trapped in for four days.

Adley, sealed a mile inside a 400-foot-high mountain, hoped to crawl through a four-foot escape tunnel sometime today. He was locked in a 10-foot-high by 10-foot-wide pocket when a wall of water surged through the mine at midday Tuesday.

"We are so close we can see his light and he can see ours ... Music to him is the drill he keeps hearing," John Shutack, regional director of the federal Mining Enforcement and Safety Administration (MESA) said Friday night.

The rescuers moved sideways toward Adley at five inches an hour.

Meanwhile, a drill from above bore an eight-inch hole from the surface to an area where seven comrades — their fate still unknown — were believed to be. A television camera and listening devices were to be lowered into it.

Two other miners were known dead. A funeral for one was held Friday in a driving rain.

As the rat-a-tat-tat inched nearer, Adley, a 37-year-old father of two, bedded down on a wool blanket that rescuers had sent him via a pipe that was pushed through into his chamber. Between brief naps, he nibbled on snacks and sipped hot coffee funneled through a tube. A plug of tobacco was handy.

Gasoline Tax Increase Nixed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — House Republicans defeated an attempt Thursday by minority Democrats to introduce a gasoline tax increase.

It was more modest than a measure backed by the administration of Republican Gov. Otis Bowen.

The vote to reject the minority report of the Ways and Means Committee went substantially along party lines, with Rep. George Schmidt, R-Indianapolis, joining the 48 Democrats in support of the bill.

The minority report called for repealing the sales tax on gasoline while raising the gallonage tax from eight cents to 10 cents.

The GOP-backed proposal calls for a three-cent increase in gallonage tax and removing the tax-on-a-tax on gasoline. That bill was later amended to raise the gasoline tax two cents a gallon this summer and another cent next year.

the lecture hall of a large university and still have room for more people.

Yet, size has become an asset for this school, which attracts most of its students from the immediate area.

The college, founded by the Ursulines in 1958, is located behind an older Ursuline Academy for high school girls. Today, the college is an independent, nonsectarian institution which has many of the problems common to a small business venture.

"Frankly, we do have to keep hustling," the dean said. "We've raised nearly $14,000 from strictly grass roots support, but that area is a new venture for us."

"Actually, we manage to survive here by using contributive services such as the Ursuline nuns, who don't get paid. That helps meet expenses."

There are only three actual classrooms, but the average class size is 28. Many of the students graduated high school long ago and many hold fulltime jobs.

"That's why we try to conduct many night classes and once-a-week classes to cater to these students," Meling said. Many students use Chatfield as a springboard to a larger university.

"Our students tend not to be too wealthy and many come to college for career training after being out of high school for quite a while. They are not here to waste their time."

Meling admits that the size of the school sometimes means that classes and facilities must be improvised.

"I find myself becoming an education-broker matching up teachers from their schools to teach special classes for our students who are interested," Meling said.

For facilities, the college students may use the academy's large swimming pool, art and print shops, gymnasium and library.

Yet, the formula must be working since the school seems to be in the midst of a student boom these days.

"Our student body has increased 65 per cent since 1974," Meling said. "We're still not making any money, but I think we will within the next few years."

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

On Tuesday, March 1, the Ohio House of Representatives passed and sent to the Senate legislation boosting the Ohio Student Loan Commission's loan guarantee program for college and university students.

The proposal, House Bill 152 authored by Columbus Representative Mike Stinziano, was easily approved by a 86 to 5 vote.

Under current law, the Ohio Student Loan Commission assists qualified Ohio residents in obtaining tuition loans from private lending institutions by guaranteeing the lender that the state will pay 90 per cent of the loan in case of default by the student.

If enacted, House Bill 152 would make two basic changes to the state loan program. First, it would allow the state loan commission to guarantee loans for qualified nonresidents in addition to residents attending Ohio's higher education institutions. Second, it would increase the state's loan guarantee from 90 per cent to fully 100 per cent of the loan.

These changes would have the effect of increasing the number of students in the loan program, and increasing the amount of money loaned. Obviously a new category of students, nonresidents, would apply for the loan guarantees. Also, lending institutions would be willing to make more loans since the state would guarantee the loans at 100 per cent. The increase to a 100 per cent guarantee would generate an estimated $10-20 million in additional loan funds from lenders in 1977, bringing total new loans to an estimated $50 million for the year.

Another result of House Bill 152 would be an increase in federal monies for the loan program. If the state guarantees loans at 100 per cent, the federal government would reimburse the state for losses on defaults at 100 per cent.

In other legislative action during the first week of March, the House passed bills extending the eligibility for firemen and policemen's death benefits and revising township park laws.

The benefits measure, House Bill 10 sponsored by Representative Larry Christman of Englewood, would extend the eligibility for benefits under the Firemen and Policemen's Death Benefit Fund to surviving spouses and children of full-time regular municipal and township police officers and firemen who were members of the Public Employees Retirement System. Coverage for such persons was inadvertently omitted when the benefit fund was established last year.

The township park measure, House Bill 187, would expand the uses for funds received from a property tax levy for township park purposes and would authorize expense reimbursements for park commissioners of township park districts. The bill, sponsored by Youngstown Representative Tom Gilmartin, would also provide for criminal penalties for violations of park rules and regulations.

Both House Bill 10 and House Bill 187 await Senate Action.
